FIRA fills in this

Examples of our activities:

General Affairs:	We organize training and carry out research on multicultural symbiotic society, train supporters for non-Japanese residents in times of natural disaster, arrange meetings, and manage budget, account settlement, and other administrative matters.
Public Relations:	Our members gather information and edit articles for the FIRA newsletter, which is published three times a year, and a quarterly life information magazine "Yokoso," and distribute those publications. We also manage and update our website, and translate the articles to be published on the website.
Cultural Exchange:	Funabashi has established relationships with our sister and friendship cities. Citizen-based exchange activities with these cities include visiting each other and sending students to California State University, East Bay. We also provide opportunities for citizens to interact with foreign residents living in Funabashi to deepen mutual understanding.
International Understanding Seminar:	The International Understanding Seminar is held about twice a year supported by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Ambassadors of various countries speak at the Seminar to introduce their own country directly to the citizens of Funabashi.
Foreign Residents' Assistance Service:	We provide foreign residents with useful information, a counseling service, and interpretation and translation services at the City Hall on Mondays and Fridays.
Japanese Classes:	Regular Japanese classes are held at seven locations (mostly at public halls). We also hold a short-term, intensive course for beginners in spring and fall.
Chikyu-kko (Japanese Class for Non-native Children)	We hold a Japanese class for elementary and junior high school children at Tobu Public Hall on every Saturday morning.
